Dear Mr. Drummond:

I apologize for my delay in acknowledging indictment CM-2026-0382, recently handed down by your office.

As a left-wing political activist who fears prison less than he fears false Christians and/or white supremacists, I am happy to learn that there continue to be American law enforcement officials who are still interested in prosecuting white native-English-speakers, like me, for their crimes.

It proves that, despite his best efforts, our autocratic tyrant of a President, Donald John Trump, and his triumvirate of incompetent and unqualified stooges (Pam Bondi, Kash Patel, and Kristi Noem), have not fully succeed in converting the USA's law enforcement apparatus into nothing more than a toy with which to harrass and terrorize the ESL POCs who make up a significant portion of contributors to the American economy's capitalist labor force.

I plan to plead guilty to all the charges set forth in your indictment against me, as soon as I am arraigned at an Oklahoma court. You have my guarantee of intent to fully collaborate with your office in this matter. I am already in the process of making travel arrangements for Oklahoma City.

However, in the meantime, I do have one favor to ask.

Is there any chance you could reach out to your counterpart in the state of Tennessee, A.G. Jonathan Skrmetti, and urge him to follow your lead, and get him to issue an indictment for the religiously motivated anti-Christian hate crime, of arson, which I committed in Mt. Juliet TN in March 2024?

As was reported in The Tennessean, and other news outlets, including USA Today, about 200 Bibles were set on fire in front of Pastor Greg Locke's Global Vision Bible Church early in the morning of Easter Sunday 2024 (this was at Global Vision's old location, on Chandler Road). The news coverage explained that the Bibles had been piled in a flatbed trailer which had been towed to the spot and then abandoned by an as-yet unidentified lone perpetrator.

I allege that I am the person who perpetrated this act of anti-Christian arson, and I could have substantiated this to the Sheriff's Office of Wilson County TN, by sharing details of the crime that were not released to the public. The law enforcement officials of Wilson County TN seemed more interested in holding the investigation in permanent limbo, neither interviewing any persons of interest, nor declaring the charges dropped. It seems, alas, law enforcement officials in Tennessee are not as competent and dedicated as their colleagues are in Oklahoma.

Thank you for your service. I look forward to working with you to facilitate the doing of justice, and thereby, showing our clueless, illegitimate President what taking responsibility for one's actions actually looks like.

Sincerely,

Owen "616" Cunningham
